Have you got the "Right Stuff" to be a leader?
Many people think that figures like Colin Powell, Warren Buffet and George Bush were simply born with skills that inspire others to follow their lead. In this workshop packed full of ideas and practice sessions, participants will learn:

- Foundation skills of leadership
- Why others follow while some lead
- How to motivate and inspire others
- Which leadership models work or does not work
- How to sustain leadership success
- Understanding your emotional quotient
- And many others...
